Safe Harbor Statements and Important Information

Forward-Looking Statements
Statements in this presentation that are not historical, including statements relating to the expected future performance of the Company, are considered “forward looking” within the meaning of the federal securities laws and are presented pursuant to the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. You can identify forward-looking statements because they contain words such as “believes,” “expects,” “may,” “will,” “should,” “would,” “could,” “seeks,” “approximately,” “intends,” “plans,” “projects,” “estimates,” “projects,” “outlook,” “anticipates” or “looking forward,” or similar expressions that relate to our strategy, plans, intentions, or expectations. All statements we make relating to our estimated and projected earnings, margins, costs, expenditures, cash flows, growth rates, and financial results or to our expectations regarding future industry trends are forward-looking statements. In addition, we, through our senior management, from time to time make forward-looking public statements concerning our expected future operations and performance and other developments.

Our actual results may differ materially from those that we expected due to a variety of factors, including without limitation: (1) risks associated with our substantial indebtedness and debt service; (2) changes in prices and availability of resin and other raw materials and our ability to pass on changes in raw material prices to our customers on a timely basis; (3) risks related to acquisitions or divestitures and integration of acquired businesses and their operations, and realization of anticipated cost savings and synergies; (4) risks related to international business, including transactional and translational foreign currency exchange rate risk and the risks of compliance with applicable export controls, sanctions, anti-corruption laws and regulations; (5) increases in the cost of compliance with laws and regulations, including environmental, safety, and climate change laws and regulations; (6) labor issues, including the potential labor shortages, shutdowns or strikes, or the failure to renew effective bargaining agreements; (7) risks related to disruptions in the overall global economy, persistent inflation, supply chain disruptions, and the financial markets that may adversely impact our business, including as a result of the Russia-Ukraine conflict; (8) risk of catastrophic loss of one of our key manufacturing facilities, natural disasters, and other unplanned business interruptions; (9) risks related to weather-related events and longer-term climate change patterns; (10) risks related to the failure of, inadequacy of, or attacks on our information technology systems and infrastructure; (11) risks that our restructuring programs may entail greater implementation costs or result in lower cost savings than anticipated; (12) risks related to future write-offs of substantial goodwill; (13) risks of competition, including foreign competition, in our existing and future markets; (14) risks related to market conditions associated with our share repurchase program; (15) risks related to market disruptions and increased market volatility as a result of Russia’s invasion of Ukraine; and (16) the other factors discussed in the section titled "Risk Factors" in our Annual Report on Form 10-K and subsequent filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. We caution you that the foregoing list of important factors may not contain all of the material factors that are important to you. Accordingly, readers should not place undue reliance on those statements. All forward-looking statements are based upon information available to us on the date hereof. All forward-looking statements are made only as of the date hereof and we undertake no obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statement as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except as otherwise required by law.

These slides are not intended to be a stand-alone presentation, but are for use in conjunction with the earnings call. This presentation should be read together with “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” and the consolidated financial statements and the related notes thereto included in our public filings.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures
This presentation includes certain non-GAAP financial measures such as operating EBITDA, adjusted EBITDA, adjusted net income, free cash flow, and supplemental unaudited financial information intended to supplement, not substitute for, comparable measures under generally accepted accounting principles in the United States (GAAP). Information reconciling forward-looking operating EBITDA is not provided because such information is not available without unreasonable effort due to the high variability, complexity, and low visibility with respect to certain items, including debt refinancing activity or other non-comparable items. These items are uncertain, depend on various factors, and could be material to our results computed in accordance with GAAP. Investors are urged to consider carefully the comparable GAAP measures and the reconciliations to those measures provided in our earnings release, presentations, and SEC filings. For further information about our non-GAAP measures, please see our earnings release, SEC filings and supplemental data at the end of this presentation. Further, percentage changes for revenue, Operating EBITDA, and Adjusted EPS are shown on “comparable basis” with the prior year period, which excludes the impacts of foreign currency along with any recent divestitures. We believe this comparison provides meaningful and useful information to investors about the trends in our businesses and clarifies the impact of non-recurring items.

Key Takeaways for Today

1. Solid 1Q results with 3% EBITDA growth and 11% EPS growth – in line with expectations
2. Cost productivity helped offset short-term softer customer demand
3. Returned $211M of capital to shareholders: $178M of shares repurchased (2.4% of s/o) and our first ever quarterly dividend payment made in December
4. Lowered long-term leverage target to 2.5x–3.5x; Continue to expect repurchasing $600M or more shares in FY’23
5. Reaffirming FY 2023 guidance (stronger price/cost spread offsetting short-term softer volumes)

Focus on driving long-term shareholder value
Fiscal 1st Quarter Highlights

$211M RETURNED TO SHAREHOLDERS via share repurchases (another 2.4% of shares outstanding) & dividend

$443M OPERATING EBITDA +3% vs PY

Quote from The World in 2050: The long view: how will the global economic order change by 2050? – PWC.com, Feb. 2017
1st Quarter - Segment Overview

Consumer Packaging – International

Revenue
- Stable demand in our consumer facing markets, such as food and beverage. These markets were offset by weaker overall customer demand including industrial markets. The outbreak of COVID-19 in China also negatively impacted volumes

Op. EBITDA
- Positive price cost spread, in the face of higher energy costs, offset by softer overall customer demand
- Continued focus on high value segments such as healthcare, pharmaceutical, and dispensing

Note: All dollar amounts in millions. Prior year comparable basis adjusted for Fx and divested businesses, which are non-GAAP financial measures. See appendix.
1st Quarter - Segment Overview

Consumer Packaging – North America

Revenue
-10%

+23%

Revenue
- Decline primarily related to the pass-through of lower resin prices and softer overall customer demand primarily in our industrial markets partially offset by strong volumes in foodservice

Op. EBITDA
- Very strong growth of +23% including cost reduction efforts, recovery of inflation, and productivity improvements

Note: All dollar amounts in millions. Prior year comparability basis adjusted for FX and divested businesses, which are non-GAAP financial measures. See appendix.

Revenue
- Decline related to soft overall customer demand including our European industrial markets, our concentrated effort to improve our sales mix to higher value products, the pass through of lower resin prices and customer destocking as supply chains normalize.

Op. EBITDA
- Strong growth of +15% including improved product mix and recovery of inflation.
- Continued focus on mix improvement and productivity.

Note: All dollar amounts in millions. Prior year comparable basis adjusted for Fx and divested businesses, which are non-GAAP financial measures. See appendix.
Revenue
- Decline primarily related to the pass-through of lower resin prices, softer overall customer demand in our specialties markets, and customer destocking as supply chains normalize

Op. EBITDA
- Lag in recovering inflation
- Expect earnings to improve sequentially

(1) Amortization of intangibles from acquisition are added back to better align our calculation of adjusted EPS with peers.

(2) Supplemental financial measures that are not required by, or presented in accordance with, accounting principles generally accepted in the United States (“GAAP”). These non-GAAP financial measures should not be considered as alternatives to operating or net income or cash flows from operating activities, in each case determined in accordance with GAAP. Organic sales growth and comparable basis measures exclude the impact of currency translation effects and acquisitions. These non-GAAP financial measures may be calculated differently by other companies, including other companies in our industry, limiting their usefulness as comparative measures. Berry’s management believes that adjusted net income and other non-GAAP financial measures are useful to our investors because they allow for a better period-over-period comparison of operating results by removing the impact of items that, in management’s view, do not reflect our core operating performance.

We define “free cash flow” as cash flow from operating activities, less net additions to property, plant, and equipment. We believe free cash flow is useful to an investor in evaluating our liquidity because free cash flow and similar measures are widely used by investors, securities analysts, and other interested parties in our industry to measure a company’s liquidity. We also believe free cash flow is useful to an investor in evaluating our liquidity as it can assist in assessing a company’s ability to fund its growth through its generation of cash.

Adjusted EBITDA is used by our lenders for debt covenant compliance purposes. We also use Adjusted EBITDA, Operating EBITDA, and comparable basis measures, among other measures, to evaluate management performance and in determining performance-based compensation. Operating EBITDA is a measure widely used by investors, securities analysts, and other interested parties in our industry to measure a company’s performance. We also believe EBITDA and Adjusted net income are useful to an investor in evaluating our performance without regard to revenue and expense recognition, which can vary depending upon accounting methods.
Non-GAAP Reconciliation

(1) Includes primarily integration expenses and other business optimization costs.
(2) Primarily includes stock compensation expense.
(3) Amortization excludes non-cash amortization from the 2006 private sale of $32 million for fiscal year ended September 26, 2015.
(4) Supplemental financial measures that are not required by, or presented in accordance with, accounting principles generally accepted in the United States (“GAAP”). These non-GAAP financial measures should not be considered as alternatives to operating or net income or cash flows from operating activities, in each case determined in accordance with GAAP. These non-GAAP financial measures are among the indicators used by management to measure the performance of the Company’s operations, and also among the criteria upon which performance-based compensation may be based. Adjusted EBITDA also is used by our lenders for debt covenant compliance purposes. We use Adjusted Free Cash Flow as a measure of liquidity because it assists us in assessing our Company’s ability to fund its growth through its generation of cash. Our projected Adjusted Free Cash flow for fiscal 2016 assumes $817 million of cash flow from operations less $285 million of additions to property, plant, and equipment and $57 million of payments under our tax receivable agreement.

Similar non-GAAP financial measures may be calculated differently by other companies, including other companies in our industry, limiting their usefulness as comparative measures. Because of these limitations, you should consider the non-GAAP financial measures alongside other performance measures and liquidity measures, including operating income, various cash flow metrics, net income and our other GAAP results.
